He Sells Sailing Ships.

By DON SWAIN

Although he seldom finds time to enjoy the sport himself, Herman Schwill devotes all his time to making sailing a pleasure and rewarding experience for those who buy his boats.

Mr. Schwill has taken over the former Babcock truck body building on Factory St., in Odessa and he has installed two assembly lines for the manufacture of fibreglass boats.

In 1967, he left his job with a Toronto electronics and furniture firm and began doing what he had wanted to do for several years — designing and building his own sailing craft. He started his business in Oshawa.

The initial sales response was encouraging but he soon found he needed two things: more space and a location closer to the United States market. He found both in Odessa.

The building was suitable for constructing boats and the overhead was low which was also an attractive factor. The one big problem he has had to cope with since starting production in his Odessa plant in November 1971 has been to find either skilled or semi-skilled staff or men or women who are willing to learn the skills of boat building.

ODESSA MANUFACTURER, Herman Schwill sits in a partially completed 20-foot fibreglass sailing craft as it pauses on the assembly line, enroute to completion. Mr. Schwill has been building boats in the former Babcock truck body plant in Odessa since November 1971.

OFFICE WORK and the sales end of the Schwill Yachts Inc. of Odessa are handled by Mr. Schwill's wife Carol. Mrs. Schwill seen above at her typewriter is as enthusiastic about building sailboats as her husband.

The key material in the boats is fibreglass. Mr. Schwill designs the boats and builds his own moulds for the hull and deck structures. Then the first stage is the building up of the hull with layer upon layer of fibreglass until eight layers have been applied. In some areas where there is particular stress, as many as 10 or 12 layers may be applied.

Each layer has to be properly cured before the next is applied. "You have to take time to make a good product," Mr. Schwill emphasizes. "You can't rush it."

His standard lines are 16 foot and 20 foot sailboats. There is an assembly line for each in the large open space of the building which, once inside, looks much like an airplane hangar.

All of the materials that go into the boats are crafted on site at Mr. Schwill's Odessa plant. Sections of aluminum tubing for masts are ordered from the manufacturer and cut to size with the necessary hardware and fittings installed. A feature of the fibreglass is that the desired color can be blended into the molten mixture and thus the color is a part of the material that makes the hull. Once the several layers have hardened, the hull is freed from the mould and begins its journey along the assembly line with the deck and cabin, interior fittings, seats, berths, cupboards etc. added as the craft moves slowly along on metal rollers.

At full capacity, Mr. Schwill can turn out a 16-footer a day and it takes about a day and a half to complete and outfit a 20 foot sailing craft.

The only part of the craft that is not made in the plant is the sails which Mr. Schwill has been purchasing for years from a small family firm in Toronto which specializes in making custom designed sails.

For ballast (as much as 550 pounds goes into a 20 foot boat) lead and concrete are used. The ballast is built right into the bottom of the hull.

"The trend is definitely away from motor boats to sail boats," Mr. Schwill is convinced and the energy crisis is already being reflected in the willingness of U.S. banks to finance dealers in the advance ordering and purchasing of sail boats for sale during the 1974 season.

Seventy per cent of Mr. Schwill's production goes to the northern New York State market. He finds that U. S. boat dealers to whom he wholesales sailing craft operate in a way that enables them to show prospective customers a selection of sailing craft moored right at the docks of their marinas. Canadian dealers are more likely to order a boat at a time and then the particular boat is to fill a customer's order based on the specifications and illustrations in the brochures of Schwill Yachts, Inc. Mr. Schwill finds his work to be "A reasonably exciting business. You meet a lot of people: teachers, lawyers, doctors, professional people who are interested in sailing."

FINE FINISHING WORK is being done on the rear deck of a 16-foot sailing craft on the assembly line at Schwill Yachts Inc. in Odessa by Jack Nickolas of Yarker and Grace Flint of Odessa.

While Mr. Schwill sells a good deal of his annual production (which this year will reach 150 completed boats) wholesale, he also makes retail sales building a boat to a customer's particular specifications as to interior trim, finish and options of accessories.

The present price of a 16-foot craft is $2,000 and a 20-footer costs $3,500. The deluxe model of the 20-foot model sells for $4,500.

The reason for the growing popularity of sailing has nothing to do with the energy crisis because Mr. Schwill feels it's a matter of personal involvement. "If you have a motor boat where is the challenge?" he asks. "You start the motor and steer. With a sail boat there is the wind over which you have no control. There is also the action of wave on water. When you arrive at a point by sailing, there is a sense of accomplishment."

The products of the Odessa plant are marketed under the name of "DS — YACHTS." The story behind this is that Mr. Schwill designs the different models and has a friend Jim Diller who is an aircraft engineer. Before a design leaves the drawing board, Mr. Schwill has his friend Mr. Diller check his calculations, degree of plane and curve of the hull, for example, using a computer. This sophisticated testing ensures that the design meets the requirements for cutting smoothly through the water under full sail.

Mr. Schwill is also engaged in the production of one other allied line, boat trailers. Since there are no production model trailers built in Canada to take a 20-foot sail boat, he also builds the trailers to go with the boat by individual order.

"Reliability and craftsmanship" are the basis of Mr. Schwill's boat building operation and his promotional folder stresses that "Quality fibreglass hand laid-up construction as well as excellent workmanship is the trademark of DS Yachts."

From January to the end of July is the busiest part of the year for Mr. Schwill's business and he employs anywhere from 10 to 15 local people in the various aspects of boat building.

FIRST BABY OF 1974 to arrive in the Napanee area, was born at 8:55 in the evening on New Year's Day at Lennox and Addington County General Hospital. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Sanwell, of 16 Bridge St., Napanee. The baby, a boy, weighed in at seven pounds, eight ounces. Mrs. Sanwell is seen above with her new son, the second child for the family.

One judge to take all court sittings

In a move to achieve greater efficiency in the operation of provincial courts, there has been a re-arrangement in the assignments of provincial judges.

Judge P. E. D. Baker of Kingston will no longer be taking the Thursday sitting of Provincial Court in Napanee. Judge Ronald C. Jackson, of Belleville will be taking both Monday and Thursday sessions.

Judge Jackson has been presiding at the Monday Provincial Court sessions here since his appointment to the bench in 1952. Prior to his appointment as a judge, he practised law in Napanee and his family is from the Enterprise area.

Judge Jackson will no longer be responsible for the weekly court sessions in Bancroft which is also part of the shift in jurisdictions by the Provincial Judge to achieve greater efficiency of operation in the administration of justice.

Judge Jackson told The Beaver that he now expects to spend some time during the week, or the parts of days when court is not sitting, dealing with administrative matters from his Napanee office.

Another aspect of the changes in the Ontario Ministry of the Attorney General is that justices of the peace will be taking on greater responsibilities in the hearing of minor cases, particularly those involved with Highway Traffic Act violations, leaving the Provincial Judge more time to deal with criminal cases.

Napanee Justice of the Peace John Russell is one of some 1,000 Ontario justices of the peace who will be taking a course to prepare them for their new role. Mr. Russell will begin a course of training in Peterborough this month.

To mail tax rebate cheques this week

After considerable delay encountered due to computer difficulties, 1,664 Napanee residents will be receiving cheques this week as a result of the $135,000 which the Ontario Government announced in April would be available to municipalities to enable them to reduce taxes.

Early in December, Reeve Glenn Herrington announced that the individual rebates would be made based on $17.20 per $1,000 of assessment. The assessment rolls are on computer tape and International Business Machines which does the work for the town no longer processes cheques in Kingston. As a result the work had to be done in IBM's Ottawa office and there difficulties were encountered which resulted in delays so that the cheques could not be sent out as planned by Napanee Council so they would arrive before Christmas.

When the Napanee mill rate was struck, the $135,000 was not taken into consideration but Mayor Lorne Smart said that if the money was received in full tax rebates would be made to ratepayers.

In other area municipalities, North Fredericksburgh which was to have received $26,000 received just over $20,000 The Beaver has learned. North Fredericksburgh Council will decide what do with the money at the January meeting of council on Mon. Jan. 7. The township auditor has advised North Fredericksburgh that the grant money can be used in three ways: by making individual tax rebates to ratepayers, by taking the money into account in striking the mill rate for 1974 or it can be used for general municipal expenditures.

Both Ernestown and South Fredericksburgh Townships took the grants into consideration in striking the 1973 mill rate. The Ernestown mill rate was reduced by about five mills, Reeve Cecil Kidd told The Beaver.

Richmond used the grant funds of about $30,000 for "improving municipal services," according to Richmond Reeve Bruce Cuthill. The township had calculated its mill rate by the time the announcement was made in April. Since then, the township has had to purchase a new dump site at Roblin and has purchased an additional truck for use in the township road system. "We were able to hold the mill rate at a fraction below the previous year," said Reeve Cuthill. "The people are getting it (the grant money) back in services."

Bird count turns up new species

A new kind of bird, in this area, the Glaucous Gull was seen by observers who participated in the annual Christmas bird count for the Napanee area on Sat. Dec. 29. The National Audubon Society bird census has been held each year since 1962.

There were 13 observers in five cars who covered the large territory which is a 17-mile diameter circle with its centre at the cross roads north of H. H. Langford Public School on the Hamburg Road.

The Napanee and area group was assisted by members of the Kingston Field Naturalists' Club.

The largest number of gulls ever seen on a Napanee count was recorded. These were mostly sitting on ice north of Prince Edward Point, near Sandhurst. A total of 1,418 Herring Gulls were counted.

The following is a list of the species and number of each seen during the count: Greater Scaup, 98; Common Goldeneye, 33; Common Morganser, 2; Red-tail Hawk, 28,; Rough-legged Hawk, 4; Sparrow Hawk, 10; Rough Grouse, 4; Gray Partridge, 30; Glaucous Gull, 2; Great Black-backed Gull, 8; Herring Gull, 1,418; Ring-billed Gull, 1; Rock Dove 721; Mourning Dove, 69; Great Horned Owl, 5; Snowy Owl, 1; Hairy Woodpecker, 10; Downy Woodpecker, 11; Horned Lark, 3; Blue Jay, 91; Common Crow, 5; Black-capped Chickadee, 141; White-breasted Nuthatch, 10; Robin, 1; Northern Shrike, 13; Starling 1,211; House Sparrow, 1,890; Evening Grosbeak, 208; American Goldfinch, 12; Slate-colored Junco, 12; Tree Sparrow, 202; Snow Bunting, 69.

In all, a total of 32 species of birds were included in the count.

The following from Napanee participated in the count: Gordon Bews, Dale Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Manly Kimmett, Miss Gloria Collada and Mrs. Edith Hartmen from Odessa who served as official compiler of results.

Those from Kingston who helped with the count were : Mrs. A. E. Hughes, Mrs. Helen Quilliam, Miss Winnifred Smith, Arthur Bell, J. A. Warren, Philip Little, and W. R. Travers.

Looking Ahead

At the beginning of a new year, it looks like 1974 could be an important and interesting year for Napanee.

Housing is one area that is critical to the development of the town and adjacent areas in Richmond and North Fredericksburgh and in 1973 significant progress was made in this field locally.

Thirty homes are now completed in the Barrett subdivision in the east end of town and Napanee Mayor Lorne Smart has expressed hopes for a new subdivision on Hillside Ave.

Just recently, the same construction firm that has been involved with the Barrett subdivision, Rollins Construction Ltd., of Belleville, announced it was interested in getting council approval so it could proceed with a 60 unit condominium.

Construction of another 34-unit senior citizens' development is now in progress on Richard St., and development of another project for senior citizens only awaits the location of a site by the Ontario Housing Corporation.

The year 1974 should be a year of greater co-operation between Napanee and the neighboring townships of Richmond and North Fredericksburgh. All three municipalities are still waiting for an area sewer report from the Ontario Ministry of the Environment. A long-awaited report on joint water services for the three municipalities was received several weeks ago and while some discussions have been held, indications are that the townships in particular are not happy with the proposed distribution of costs and consequent levying of rates.

The reports on sewer and water services are critical to the development of Napanee and area as The Beaver has stated on several occasions and there is surely no excuse for further delay in completion of the sewer report by provincial authorities in 1974.

On Apr. 1, the town is scheduled to get door-to-door postal service. This has been a project for which Mayor Smart has been pressing for some time and it has now been authorized by federal postal authorities with planning for the acquisition of staff and other administrative details underway.

The past year saw the completion of a five-year street improvement plan with work being finished on Bridge St. In 1974, four blocks on the town's main street, Dundas St. are scheduled to get much needed improvements, including new curbs and paving, and well as gutters, sewers and street lights.

Programs for local viewing are now being produced by Napanee-Deseronto Cablevision Ltd. and early in 1974, the first local programming will begin.

Again on the development front, the Napanee Mall is well under construction with the first store due to open the end of this month. While it will undoubtedly have some initial effect on downtown merchants the fact that it is being built to serve the Napanee area is a sign of progress.

Last year, the Napanee Council commissioned a report on the refurbishing of the Town Hall and Market Square. Late in 1973, architect Wilfred Sorenson was asked to prepare a detailed report including costs of renovating the Town Hall and providing suitable quarters for a police station at the west end of the building.

Looking ahead on the housing front, 30 of the 60 rent-geared-to-income houses on Church St. are being built and approval has been received for another 30 to be built on the former town dump site on which an option has been taken, effective until the middle of June.

Napanee starts the new year with a new clerk-treasurer, John McNamee of Whitby. He comes to his new position with a strong background of municipal experience and the enthusiasm that will be needed to carry the town forward successfully in 1974.

Sex Education In Schools

The introduction of sex education in the primary schools in Lennox and Addington County is welcomed with reservations. After all, we have to agree with Jim Zehr, who was responsible for the development of the teaching program, when he states that it is better that children learn the plain facts of life one year too early rather than one single day too late.

But any teaching process, and certainly when the subject is as sensitive a one as sex, depends on the quality and the attitude of the teachers as well as of the teaching material provided. And that is where our reservations come in.

A number of the film strips have been shown, accompanied by a tape recorded spoken lesson, which are to be used by the teachers in explaining the bodily changes occuring during puberty. These film strips made in the United States are, of a disturbingly poor quality and desperately outdated.

It would not be a surprise to find out the strips had been produced before A.C. Kinsey published his studies of human sex habits in the 1950s. The strips are certainly older than Women's Lib: girls as well as boys are told in no uncertain terms that they have to model themselves after a person of their own sex. "Sex typing" is forcefully taught by the strips.

One teacher at the Centreville Public School has started his sixth graders off on sex education well before the program was officially introduced, and he has proven to do an outstanding job. We hope and pray that the other teachers in the system will be able to come up to his standard by discussing the subject openly and freely and by correcting the many omissions and misdirection incorporated in the teaching materials provided.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bounty No Solution

December 19, 1973

In a recent letter Mr. M.F. Scott called for the reimposing of the bounty on wolves and on dogs running at large as a means of preventing sheep from being harrassed, injured and killed.

I can understand and very sincerely sympathize with Mr. Scott and I agree with him that there is no greater cruelty than the suffering of sheep that have been attacked in this way. Anyone who has ever seen it will sympathaize with Mr. Scott's reaction.

However in spite of this I must disagree with Mr. Scott's recommendations. Bounties on wolves and dogs have never ever solved the problem. In fact it has even been suggested they compound the problem. The solution, and the only solution as far as dogs are concerned, is modern, humane, effective animal control and that costs money. Any local government which thinks they can control dogs by hiring cheap dog catchers, by operating poor facilities is simply deluding itself, misleading its constituents and failing in its responsiblities. Modern animal control can be achieved by (a) an effective by-law, and (b) equally effective enforcement.

Until and unless local governments accept this as a fact of life then I am afraid that we will continue to suffer from the effect of irresponsible dog owners, the majority of which should not be allowed to have dogs in the first place.

The Ontario Humane Society is just as concerned and has just as much feeling for the sheep as we have for the dogs.

Yours sincerely,
T. I. HUGHES

Advice On Sheep

RR 3 Lanark, Ont.
Dec. 12, 1973.

Will you please tell Mr. M. F. Scott that due to the fact that his sheep were killed and flock upset by dogs or wolves that he can claim compensation for the flock value by refusing market value and appealing it. We know, as we did this 15 years ago. When we appealed it they gave us a man's name in Oshawa, Ont. He is head of the Sheep Association. We wrote him. He came down to fight for our rights. He told them they had to accept what we figured our lambs were worth, also we could collect flock damage and they had to pay it.

I agree, bounty should be back on wolves or coyotes. Also, a man who knows his dog kills sheep and will not destroy it, should be fined or impound the dog and make him pay damages.

Four years ago we were losing four and five sheep a night. We had to keep them inside for one year at night. We ordered two pure bred airdale dogs from New Brunswick. It cost $200 but we never have lost any sheep since by coyotes or wolves. We let the dogs run and the neighbors are agreeable as the dogs clean their groundhogs up in summer.

The coyotes haye fought with them but we cannot say if they ever killed any because we never found any dead but we do not hear them howl on our doorstep anymore. If you care for proof of my story, contact county clerk, Mrs. Thelma Vincent at Elpin.

I'd advise anyone wanting to purchase one to get two and they chase together. They are adapted to sheep as we still have sheep. It sure is the best buy we ever bought and good watchdogs.

A Missing Link

Napanee, Ont.
December 24, 1973

I read with great interest two recent articles in the Kingston Whig Standard (Nov. 24 and Nov. 28) on our distinguished Ernestown native son, NWMP Commissioner Aylesworth B. Perry, (1860 - 1957). Both articles made a valuable contribution to our store of regional history.

Both articles, however, contain one common error with regard to Perry. It is indeed true, as the articles state, that Aylesworth B. Perry was a prominent land surveyor and builder of the Addington Road, the present-day Highway 41. It is also true that Aylesworth B. Perry was the second Canadian-born Commissioner of the NWMP. The error lies in the fact that these were two different men. Aylesworth B. Perry, the noted Public Land Surveyor, purchased his farm on lot 13, concession 5, Ernestown (near Violet) in 1813, according to Meacham's Atlas. He surveyed, and directed construction of, the Addington Road between the years 1854 - 1857 (three years before Commissioner A. B. Perry was born). The dramatic story of his problems and triumphs on the old road can be read in his letters of 1854 - 1860 to MLA David Roblin in the Roblin Papers in the Lennox and Addington Historical Society Archives. The Ontario Department of Public Records and Archives erected a plaque near Kaladar in 1971 commemorating the building of the Addington Road between the years 1854 - 1857 under the supervision of "Aylsworth (sic) B. Perry, a surveyor from Violet". This story can be found in the Napanee Beaver, June 2, 1971. Further information on the career of the "first" A. B. Perry can be found in Gerald E. Boyce, Historic Hastings, which tells of Perry's survey work in 1864 in Herschel Township, Hastings County,

Everything seems to change. We inhabit a flattened galaxy of one hundred billion stars that change position at the super speed of light. A score of people will be born as you read this column. Almost that many will die. The stock market will vary. The weather forecast will be revised. The processes of aging set in. Those who say that we live in the twilight of a spent civilization may be right.

Change distresses us, disconcerts us, depresses us, even change for the better. Medical science lengthens life but multiplies the problems of the elderly. Never was there so much freedom in society but its temptations are in proportion. The provincial leader of the NDP has assured teachers that they are now ready to take their place alongside students and "other groups resisting authority." That kind of remark is less than reassuring!

Change challenges our stability. We need something stable if we are to survive. Our security is to be found in the midst of change. As a matter of fact, the biblical record shows that God changes things so much that he has the ability to "make all things new" (Revelation 21:5).

FOOD FOR THE FED-UP

"A Happy New Year"

By
REV. GORDON C. SMYTH

I recently read of a woman who was driven to despair by the death of her husband and daughter in an automobile accident. Although friends comforted her and she tried hard to keep her courage, she was losing the battle. Finally, she left home and began wandering the streets, having decided not to care what happened.

However, as she walked, a passage from the Apostles' Creed kept coming into her mind. Its full force at length hit her. She heard herself saying, "It's true! It's really true!" The words that she had remembered were, "I believe in God the Father Almighty." She returned home and began to live life anew.

Do you recall how bleak and uncertain the outlook was for democracy toward the close of 1939? Some of us will never forget the quotation that King George VI made famous in the conclusion of his Christmas broadcast to the Commonwealth.

These words echo down the corridors of time, "I said to a man who stood at the gate of the year: 'Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown.' And he replied, 'Go out into the darkness, and put your hand into the hand of God. That shall be to you better than light and safer than the known way'."

What proved to be true then is now true, and will remain true. It is your hope and mine, and the hope of an otherwise changing world. That is why we can say, "A Happy New Year" — and mean it!

BERNICE ASSELSTINE

Must Know 'Buying' In Ladies' Wear Business

This is another in a series of articles on Napanee businesses, with information about the kind of business being carried on and other interesting features about the people who operate the particular business.

By DON SWAIN

In the women's fashion business, "buying" is the key to success because with the changes that occur in materials and styles, making the right "buying" decisions is all important.

Mrs. Bernice Asselstine found that "experience was the best teacher" in her case and she has learned over the years (since 1959) how to buy. "With experience you feel a bit more confident of style trends as they develop."

This weekend, Mrs. Asselstine will be heading for Toronto and the Spring Garment Market at the Royal York Hotel where ladies' wear manufacturers display their latest styles. The shows are held twice yearly, in January and June and those who are in the merchandising end of the business have to make the right decision in anticipating demand when they place their orders.

Her husband, Bert Asselstine is a postal clerk in Napanee and when Mrs. Asselstine, the mother of eight children (all of whom are now married) started in business for herself, she still had three of her family in public school.

She had been working for a time as a sales clerk in a shoe store in Napanee when she decided to open a hat shop for women in a small store just a few doors down the street from her present location.

She called it Bernice's Hat Shoppe. Two years later, she moved to her present location by buying the "Milady's Shop" from the late Doris Card. She called the business, Bernice's Ladies' wear.

An interesting sidelight on Mrs. Asselstine's career in business is that she hired her first customer who came into her hat shoppe as a helper. Mrs. Ed (Clotilde) Dowling (whose nickname is Trixie) became her full time assistant and remained at work until she retired last Sat. Dec. 29. Since June 1972, Mrs. Asselstine has also had the assistance of her sister, Mrs. Burton (June) Hudgins in the store.

On styles, Mrs. Asselstine observes that "the mini skirt has had its day, except for the very young and the knee length is 'in' for all ages."

For a time, the pant suit and slims almost overtook the dress line but she points out that "Pant suits are no longer No. 1 in the sales line. In the last two years, the floor-length dress has come back, bringing back the feminine look in clothing!"

"Dresses will be 'in' for spring along with accessories such as floppy hats and gloves too are coming back."

Mrs. Asselstine has always retained her millinery department and she is convinced that "Hats are making a comeback both for casual and dress-up wear. Hats do complete a costume together with gloves."

Just as she has seen a number of style changes since she has been in business, fabrics have changed too. "It used to be silks and crepes, now the polyesters have taken over for wash and wear convenience."

Minor alterations are done in the store but anything of a major nature is done by a seamstress who is on call and has the work taken to her by Mrs. Asselstine or an assistant.

As for the business itself, Mrs. Asselstine "enjoys meeting people and" she adds, "I hope they like me!" She enjoys decorating and finds satisfaction in doing her own window displays and interior store displays.

For many years, she has been active in the Business and Professional Women's Association and she is a member of the Lennox and Addington County General Hospital Auxiliary.

and in the A. B. Perry diaries and notes in the Department of Lands and Forest files, Toronto.

It is also of interest that surveyor A. B. Perry's brother was Ebenezer Perry, for many years government land agent on the Addington Road, a prominent Reformer, and at one time (1872) warden of the County of Lennox and Addington. Ebenezer moved from Violet to Tamworth (he was once Reeve of Sheffield) to be near the road: See Paul Burns History of Sheffield Township.

Several questions remain unanswered: when did A. B. Perry, PLS, die? Where is he buried? Was NWMP Commissioner Aylesworth B. Perry the son of A. B. Perry, PLS? Both had the same name; both lived at one time in Violet. One could easily arrive at incorrect conclusions, as did the Preliminary Inventory of the Holdings of the Lennox and Addington Historical Society (Public Archives of Canada, 1959), which lists both men under the one single name. I leave it to your Beaver readers, and Perry descendants, to round out the story.

Amherst Island Party Welcomes New Year Early

The annual pre New Year's eve party, sponsored by Burleigh Loyal Orange Lodge No. 482 was held in Victoria Hall, Stella on Fri. Dec. 28.

A capacity crowd was in attendance at the tastefully decorated hall and enjoyed an evening of dancing with music provided by Brown Brothers' Orchestra.

The evening was interspersed with the winning of numerous prizes: a door prize was won by Maurice Hogeboom; a spot dance by Heather Willbanks and Edward McCormick. A prize for the longest married couple present went to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Drumgoole married nearly 55 years. The prize for the most recently married couple went to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Caughey. A second spot dance prize went to Jack Fleming and Diane Henderson and the prize to the couple from the farthest distance was won by Rudy and Janet Patus of South Bend, Indianna.

Friends were present from many points including: Kingston, Wolfe Island, Napanee, Hawlry, Cobourg and Ottawa with many ex-island people returning for an evening of fun fellowship. The friendly atmosphere coupled with New Year's spirit was much enjoyed by all.

At 11:30 a buffet luncheon was served, consisting of turkey, ham, vegetable and fruit salads. The traditional joining of hands and the singing of Aulde Lang Syne and the national anthem brought the evening to a close.

Western Flowering Dogwood is sometimes used for piano keys.

Newburgh Senior Citizens Hold Pot Luck Dinner

The Senior Citizens of Newburgh and vicinity met Dec. 14 in Newburgh United Sunday school room and enjoyed a pot luck dinner together. Over forty were present.

James Hughes chaired the meeting and Robin Fluke officiated as recofding secretary.

After the dinner there was a short period of carol singing, Mrs. Arthur Bacon was the pianist.

A short business discussion was arrenged for two meetings in January .. the second and fourth Wednesday at two o'clock in the community hall.

At Mr. Fluke's suggestion members were divided into four teams to organize programs in turn. So it was agreed that the first of these would plan the program for Jan. 9. This is likely to be an entirely games day.

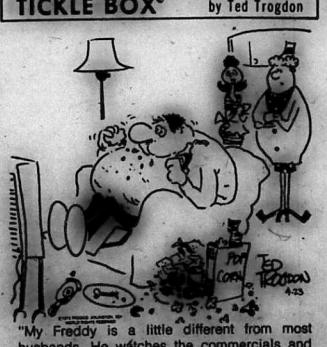
The secretary obtained a movie projector and also operated it. Three films from the National Film Board were shown; (1) Morning on the Lievre ....illustrating the poem by the Canadian poet Archibald Lampman; (2) Bird Neighbors: and (3) The activities and beauty of the month of November. All three were in color.

Several new members were introduced and the enrolment now is nearing 60. More members from beyond the corporation ... Centreville, Camden East, Strathcona, Wesley, will be most welcome ... "Boundaries Unlimited," tc quote the president.

CALLED RE GASOLINE

A New York State man called The Napanee Beaver the Saturday before Christmas for information about gasoline supplies in Canada. He planned to drive into Canada and along 401 Highway to Windsor and then go across to Michigan to visit his son for Christmas and asked two questions: Would he be able to get gas in Canada? What hours would the service stations be open? The answers were: Yes, and 24 hours per day. He thanked us and with a "Merry Christmas" hung up.

TICKLE BOX° by Ted Trogdon



"My Freddy is a little different from most husbands. He watches the commercials and fixes his snacks during the programs."

Is My Country Free?

The teachers sang O Canada
Our true north strong and free
And I felt a twinge way down deep
Was that fear inside of me?

Do we really have all these freedom rights?
It's hard for me to know
Or can we do just as we please
Till we step on someone's toe?

Now a person goes to work each day
But do they bring home what they've earned?
Oh no, a percentage has been removed
How often is it returned?

And the piece of land we think we own
Where we build our little huts
Don't miss the taxes three years in a row
You'll be thrown out on your butts

Try walking down the street some night
Dance, and sing at the top of your voice
But don't get jailed for disturbing the peace
We're silent but not out of choice.

Now I for one don't believe in strikes
I think they're the devils aid
If you're not satisfied, quit and move on
Find a job where you're better paid.

But someone has passed a silly old bill
I think it's two seventy four
That says the teachers don't have the right
To quit and walk out the door.

I know if you and I hold a job
And there's a reason we want to quit
And someone says "Oh no. You'll work"
That we'ld likely all have a fit.

Now I don't have the courage to take a firm stand
Not all alone, Not just me
But I'll back the teachers or anyone else
Who will help keep my country free.

Maureene Mack.

The Solitary One

He sat alone
On the dirty doorstep
Of one of the large downtown stores.
A blank expression covered his pale, white face,
But fear, hunger and uncertainty
Filled his watery, blue eyes.
The ugly scars on his hands and face
Told that he had been the subject of great cruelty.
All his life he had been horribly mistreated,
And used only as a tool to obtain
Someone else's ends.
His frail little arms hung,
His elbows pressed close by his side.
His boney fingers clutched a tiny tin cup,
With but a copper penny or two
In the bottom.
The crutch propped up beside him
Revealed that the orphan's thin, straight legs
Were almost useless.
His timid voice called,
And his lonely eyes searched.
All his life he had dreamed of a mother and father,
And wished for a home
And help in his troubles.
He dreamed of eating supper every night,
And of sleeping in a warm, clean bed.

But somehow, deep down in his heart
The little boy felt that none of these things
Would ever come true for him here.
He didn't understand ...
That's just the way it had been planned.
God had a special purpose for him on earth ...
He was a Christ,
He was born to suffer.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

CHILDREN'S AID HOLDS PRE-CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Lennox and Addington County Children's Aid Society held its biggest Christmas party ever in the Memorial Building the week before Christmas. According to the number of chairs used in the upstairs court room in the building, there were over 150 people present, with the majority of them children.

Rev. Guy Case retold the Christmas story, introducing some usually overlooked facts and figures, which threw a new light on the significance of Christmas. Several children sang Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. William Cowling, who played the piano.

And then it was time for Santa Claus himself. The chuckling gent took time to talk to each of the children and he handed them parcels of candies. The little ones enjoyed a rest on Santa's comfortable lap and even some of the girls up to 18 years of age did not forego this opportunity.

Just too bad foster father Jack Collier missed Santa's visit. Ruddy faced, rather portly built and with a natural chuckle, Mr. Collier had been at the receiving table when most of the visitors arrived, but shortly before Santa came Mr. Collier, who was part of the committee organizing the event, had to be elsewhere. He did not make it back to the party until after the old gent had taken his leave.

"It was the biggest and best party we ever had," Mrs. Ruth Anderson, who has been with the CAS for 11 years, said after it was all over.

STAFF PARTIES

Local industries held Christmas parties for their staff and in many cases, such as H.D. Lee Co., two parties were planned, one a dinner for staff and wives and husbands and friends, and the other a children's party for families of employees. Napanee-Deseronto Cablevision Ltd., a new local business, held its first staff Christmas dinner this year, at the Cosmopolitan Restaurant.

HEADACHE?
The beginning of a migraine headache is marked by a sudden drop in the blood levels of serotonin, a naturally occurring body chemical. Migraine pain can be relieved by injecting serotonin into an artery in the neck, states Dr. James W. Lance of Australia. This prompt relief from migraine headache is welcome news for many doctors whose patients are so afflicted.

Widow Gives Cloyne Area Farm To Government

The wife of a man whose parents were pioneers in the Cloyne area has donated the family farm to the Crown so that it can be used as a park.

Mrs. Roxie Ellen Bauder of RR 2 Cloyne said the reason for the donation was so that visitors to the area would have a place to put their boats in and so that her late husband's family would not be forgotten. The land includes 86 acres of farmland and bush of which a half mile is lake frontage on Lake Mississagagon.

Mrs. Bauder's husband Arthur died as the result of losing his leg in a saw mill accident while operating a planing mill which he had been doing since 1934 along with some farming.

Mr. Bauder's parents, Richard and Eliza Bauder were United Empire Loyalists. They moved to the lake in 1889 and began developing the area where they settled as a farm when their son was one year old.

It was about two years ago that proceedings for the transfer of the land began, according to Harold Canteloh, Tweed District manager of the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources but it is only recently that the donation became official.

There will be a plaque erected by the ministry in memory of Mr. Bauder and his parents to commemorate the fact that the farm passed from father to son and then to the people of Ontario.

The Old Country

As I go home at the end of the day, the old road,
Thru the enchanted country full of my dreams,
By the dim hills, the pilloried o'er - arching sky,
Home to the West - full of great clouds and the sunset,
Past the cattle that stand in rich grass to the knees.

It is not I who go home: It is not I.
Here is the turn we took, going home with my father,
The little feet of the pony trotting so fast,
Home by the winding lane full of music of water,
He and I were enough for each other
Going home thru the silver, the pearly twilight,
I content with my father, he with is daughter.

Magical country, full of memories and dreams,
My youth lies in the crevices of your hills,
Here in the silk of your grass by the edge of the meadows,
Every flower and leaf has is memories of you.
Home was home then and the people friendly
And you and I going home in the lengthening shadow.

Now I go home no more, tho' the swift car glides
Carries me fast thru the dear, the heavenly country,
No one knows me, the cottages show strange faces,
They who were kindly, who bid me "God save you!" of your
They are gone, they are flown, and only the country's the same,
And you sleeping as quietly under the grass.

Mail Delivery Coming In 3 Months

"Everything is going according to plan," reports Napanee Postmaster Howard O'Connor in regard to home delivery of mail which is scheduled to start in three months in Napanee.

Five full-time letter carrier, one part time carrier and one supervisor are to be hired. Early in the new year, the seven new jobs will be advertised and regular federal government competitions will be held for the positions.

While the setting up of the "walks" is being handled by postal officials in Ottawa, Mr. O'Connor emphasized that residents will be advised of the new delivery plan ahead of time.

The present lobby in the post office will be reduced in size and many of the post office boxes will disappear to provide a work area for the carriers and a place for them to load up mail for their "walks."

Deseronto Sunday School Holds Christmas Party

On Fri., Dec. 21, the Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer, Deseronto, held their Christmas party. The evening started with a pot luck supper for children, parents, and members of the church.

After supper Rev. Robert Jones acted as master of ceremonies for the brief but enjoyable program. The program opened with the Sunday School singing "Silent Night" and a few action choruses. Kathy House, a member of the junior class, gave the welcome. The "tiny Tots" and "Kindergarten", under the guidance of their teachers, Mrs. Charles Griffiths and Mrs. Kay Hood, sang "Away In the Manger" and gave a few recitations. They also sang "Happy Birthday Baby Jesus". Parents and grandparents were most impressed with this part of the program as the younger ones, as usual, stole the show.

Steven Boomhour and Nancy House, primary students, gave recitations. Their teacher, Mrs. T. L. McCullough, did some Christmas puzzles with the audience. Everyone, including the children, joined in the fun.

Mrs. Charles Griffiths and Mrs. Blake Moore presented a two part poem, "The Little Lost Jesus" and Clifford Maracle led in the singing of carols in between.

Shirley Klaver and Brenda House received the offering.

For the little ones, the exciting part of the evening was the arrival of Santa who had a bag of candy and a gift for each one of them.

Mrs. Moore then presented a gift to Rev. and Mrs. Robert Jones on behalf of the Sunday School. Mrs. K. Hood, president of the Ladies' aid, presented the Jones' with a gift from that group.

Christmas Eve Robbery Nets $400

By CATHY HUNTER

Business was exceptional for local Deseronto businessman, Anthony Elmer, this year. Mr. Elmer, owner of Malley's and Tony's Variety, said business this year was better than it had been for several years. At least that is the way it was until approximately seven o'clock on Christmas Eve when a reportedly armed robber, wearing a stocking mask, entered Tony's Variety and demanded all the cash from the till. The robber escaped with approximately $400 cash.

Tony's Variety had been so busy on Christmas Eve that only an hour earlier shoppers were barely able to enter because of the crowd. No one knows whether the robber had been watching or not but during a very brief lull in business he managed to enter and leave unnoticed getting away with almost $400.

Shortly after the robbery Mr. Elmer learned he was insured. At that time he said that was the least of his worries as he was more concerned for the welfare of his staff.

The robbery is still under investigation by Deseronto Police Constable Mike Brennan. However, Mr. Elmer does not have too much hope of success as the stocking mask makes identification of the robber almost impossible and no one saw the robber enter or leave.

Napanee And Trenton Tied For League Top Spot

By BILL MOORE

Napanee Tiremen hockey club picked up four more points on wins over Gananoque 7-5, and Picton 13-1. With their victories Trenton and Napanee are still battling for first place in the Quinte-St. Lawrence Juvenile League.

In the Gananoque-Napanee game here the Tiremen salted the game away in the second period out-scoring Gananoque 4-2.

The two teams battled to a 2-2 draw in the first period. Gananoque opened the scoring at 4:45, Pete Fair scoring from Latimer and Goddard. Garry Elder tied it up at 12:27 on a pass from Roger Mills. Fair gave the visitors the lead again at 13:36 on relays from Latimer and Jeffries. At 14:00 Tim Griffin tied it up again from Joe Craven and Terry Howie.

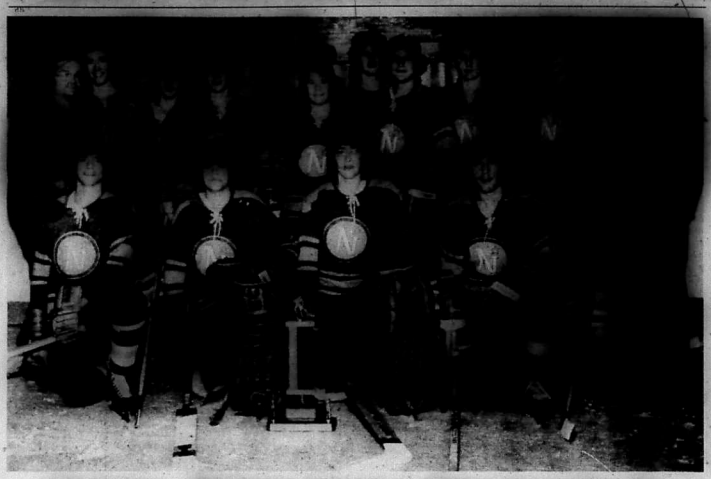
At 2:20 of the second period Gananoque took advantage of a Napanee penalty to go ahead Brian Dickson scoring from Campanaro. Roger Mills combined with Rick Bowen at 7'33 to make it a 3-3 game. Gananoque went ahead again at 10:19 Doug Jeffries scoring from Latimer and Fair on a power play. Terry Brady took a pass from Grant Elliott at 14:43 to tie it up again and at 15:45 Terry Howie put the Tiremen in the lead for the first time with Garry Elder assisting. Napanee got a power play goal at 18:06, Terry Peters scoring from Roger Mills to put Napanee ahead 6-4.

Terry Peters got his second of the game at 7:09 of the last period to make it 7-4 on a relay from Terry Brady. Gananoque got that one back at 13:10 Jeffries scoring from Dickson but that ended the scoring. The Tiremen out-shot Gananoque 52-34 in the game and picked up 14 penalties to nine for the visitors.

The Tiremen on Tuesday night in Picton were really flying as they swamped Picton by a 13-1 score. Bob Simpson gave Napanee the lead at 10:27 in the first period on a pass from Roger Mills and at 11:42 Simpson combined with Mills and Garry Elder to make it 2-0.

Napanee went ahead 6-0 in the second period with Andy McGrath scoring from Tim Griffin at 5:47 to start the onslaught at 9:29. Bob Simpson got the hat-trick on a relay from Mills. At 10:56 Roger Mills combined with Simpson to make it 5-0. Grant Elliott made it 6-0 at the 12:28 mark on a play with Terry Brady.

Tim Griffin combined with McGrath at 4:01 of the last period to make it 7-0. Picton got their only goal at 4:06 Kevin Ryan scoring from Steve Brant. Napanee continued to roll and at 6:36 Garry Elder scored from Roger Mills and 15 seconds later Terry Peters scored from Rick Bowen and Mike Kimmett. At 8:49 Peters combined with Elliott and Brady to make it 10-1. Mike Kimmett scored from Mills at 11:29 for Napanee and at 18:48 Terry Peters got his hat-trick on passes from Elliott and Brady. Joe Craven ended the scoring at 19:48, making it 13-1, on relays from McGrath and Griffin. There were 24 penalties with Picton getting 13 of them.



Napanee Midgets Capture Kingston Trophy

By: D'ARCY McKITTRICK

Last Thursday, Dec. 27, the Napanee Pringle's Midget all-stars travelled to Kingston in the early morning hours to begin a very rewarding day. It was a happy tired crew that returned that night as tournament champions. After playing three tough games, the locals emerged as victors of the Kingston Township Midget Tournament, capturing the "Bad Boy" trophy.

In the first game, the midgets eliminated one of the two Kingston Township teams entered in the one day event. It was the Township's minor team that fell by a 5-1 score to the aggressors. Tim Davey, Roger Mills, Bob Simpson, James White and Brian Munroe each tallied once in the win.

By virtue of the victory, Napanee were pitted against the Kingston Township major team. However the majors suffered a fate similar to that of their brothers. Napanee were able to score thrice while keeping their hosts off the scoresheet. Bob Simpson again found himself on the scoresheet, this time with two goals, teammate Terry Brady added the other. Brad Macdonald was superb in goal and earned his shutout.

Napanee then drew Ajax as their opponents for the final game. After two periods of play the locals found themselves on the wrong end of a 2-1 score. However they rallied behind the magnificent goaltending of Brad Macdonald to post a 3-2 win in the final twenty minutes. Bill Kimmett, Terry Brady and Ed Murray accounted for the offence thrust.

Although the championship was theirs, the team felt somewhat disappointed that netminder Brad Macdonald was not awarded the most valuable player trophy in view of his fine performance of one shutout and a 1.00 goals against average. None the less it is safe to say that the day was nothing short of successful.

All Stars Win Over Centre '70

Family Shoe Store, all star novice hockey team, from Napanee, defeated Centre '70 on Sat. Dec. 22 by a score of 5-3.

Napanee goal scorers were: Mike Finn (two goals and one assist); Dave Pierce (one goal and three assists); Mark Kohlsmith (one goal and an assist) and Chris Brant (one goal).

Realtor All-Stars Lose 3 Games

Three close games resulted in three losses for the McCutcheon Realtor Pee Wee All Stars last week.

The team attended a tournament in Prescott on Dec. 26. They lost out to Ottawa Nepean 5-3. Steve Dickerson put in two goals assisted by Greg Mills and Brant Doyle. Mike Martin scored unassisted. In their second match the boys were eliminated by Peterborough 4-2. Bill Dudgeon scored from Cory Vick and then Mike Martin from Kevin Gillott.

The team got off to a sleepy start in Gananoque on Saturday morning and were down 4-0 at the end of two periods and then woke up to play good hockey in the third period. Napanee scored four goals but unfortunately the opposition got the winning goal for a 5-4 final tally. Steve Dickerson scored from Brant Doyle and Greg Mills and then Mills scored unassisted. Huck Conway netted one from Benny Kelly and Napanee's final goal came from Peter Hinch who capitalized on a breakaway. He was assisted by Mike Martin.

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

By D'ARCY McKITTRICK

If the Napanee Minor Hockey Association was unable to arrange another exhibition "house league" game for the remainder of the season, it would only be justice. Also if I were a member of the executive, I would right now, if not earlier be offering a sincere apology to the Kingston Association for the disgusting exhibition displayed by one of our "house league" teams on Saturday night.

For those of you who are not up on the Minor Hockey scene, our local association has been progressing quite well as far as playing time for the "house league" teams go. Not only did they lengthen the weekly period to one hour, but they have arranged for exhibition games with area associations. It would be a shame if one particular incident were to be the cause of cancelling exhibition games. The incident in particular occurred Saturday night when a "house league" team from Kingston was invited to town for an exhibition game. It may have been the holiday season, however, here the holiday spirit ended. Any resemblance of sportsman-like play displayed by a majority of home team players, was merely coincidental. For it was clear from the very beginning that "head hunting" was the order of the night. So intentional was the dirty hockey played by most of our team, that is must have been an insult to any hockey fan who was observing the game. In fact a couple members of the team resorted to guerilla warfare, where you jump your opponent from behind.

But aside from the dirty hockey which some may argue will occur since boys will be boys, there is no excuse why in a friendly game, where (if I am not mistaken) the object is to have fun and involve as many boys as possible, we should have to resort to strenghtening our bantam team with midget aged players. I understand that this same Napanee team (less reinforcements) was defeated by a Kingston team earlier in the season. It causes one to wonder if possibly we are indulging in "grudge matches" at the fun and activity level (house league)? I hope not. For the only people who really profit in a grudge match at this level are the parents of the winners. It is more important to the players that they are allowed to participate and have a chance to compete with out of town teams. There will be plenty of time left for these boys to satisfy themselves with grudge matches before they hang up their blades.

The question raised in my mind by all of this is, possibly one hand does not know what the other is doing? The people in the executive positions of minor hockey are paying lip service to the ideas of fun and participation while the people who actually perform the physcial aspects such as coaching are still hung up on winning at any cost. Now this may not be true, but don't you think it is the picture presented to the general public, and especially out of town teams?

Bantams Whip Trenton 10-1

"There must have been some magic in that old black hat they found", so begins one of our traditional winter songs. In the case of the Napanee Bantams it wasn't a hat but their new sweaters, sponsored by Selby Plastic Tubing. The new sweaters were ready just in time for the Wellington tournament held at Stirling. Napanee met Ayr in the first round. The Bantams came to win, forechecking and backchecking their way to a 2-0 win on two goals by Jimmy Brown. Chris Mizarcle played back to his early season from, stopping the Ayr forwards on numerous occasions. Napanee's defence played outstandingly well, easily playing their best game of the season. In the next game Napanee was edged 2-1 by a strong Millbrook team. However, the team still played well. Jeff Sergeant scored the lone Napanee goal.

Napanee was home on Sunday afternoon against the Trenton minor club. The team was shooting more and picking up their rebounds, forechecking, aggressive backchecking, and strong defensive play was evident in the game as Selby Plastic Tubing skated their way to a 10-1 victory. Jeff Sergeant and Jimmy Brown led the team with five points each with Sergeant scoring four goals and assisting on another and Brown scoring three and assisting on two. Pete Finn scored two goals and Rick Chapman and Danny Stinson each scored one and assisted on another. Dwight Williams, Scott Lawlor, Herman Genevasen and Murray McCracken each picked up an assist. Although Murray picked up only one assist his consistent aggressive forechecking and play making originally engineered many of the five goals his line produced.

The new sweaters brought hustle if not magic to the Bantam club. In any case Mr. and Mrs. Herman Genevasen of Selby Plastic Tubing should be quite pleased with the recent performance of the club their firm is sponsoring.

Sex Education Now Part Of County School Program

By HANK REININK

For several weeks now sex education for public school pupils in Lennox and Addington County has been part of the regular curriculum "just like mathematics". The program followed in the county's schools has been designed and developed by a special writing committee made up of local teachers.

Teacher and guidance councillor Jim Zehr, 34 years old, married and the father of two daughters, has been the overall co-ordinator of the development of the "Human Growth and Development" teaching system. Recently he introduced the program to a group of parents at the Centreville Public School.

Some two years ago teachers at the high schools in the county had voiced concern that not all pupils were getting at least some sex education. Since the students can make up their own list of subjects, some don't take physical education, as part of which they would be getting sex education as well, Mr. Zehr said. Letters from parents also called for sex education, and so it was decided that the only sure way to expose all the pupils to sex education was to start them off in public school.

Writing committees, comprising a large number of county teachers, were formed to design a teaching system to run all the way from Kindergarten to Grade 12. Four separate committees were set up to deal with specific age groups. Group 1 wrote for the Kindergarten to Grade 3 pupils, Group 2 took care of the Grade four to six, group three handled Grades seven to nine and group four wrote for the higher grades.

The writing of the curriculum guidelines took about a year, Mr. Zehr told the parents. When the different committees had agreed on what the overall program should be it was presented to other groups and organizations for their comments. "We got a lot of feed back from the Health Unit, for instance," Mr. Zehr said. "They had a lot of suggestions, especially for the younger groups. We had to revise quite a bit."

The resulting guide lines for teachers were presented to the Lennox and Addington County Board of Education, which approved of the system. The teaching of sex education to public school students then became the official policy of the board.

The "Human Growth and Development" guidelines are contained in a lose leaf binder which is to be used as a teaching aid by the teachers. And guidelines is all they are. Subjects are mentioned with a single word, and reference is made to other material the teachers might want to use, whether they be film strips, movies or books.

Mr. Zehr stressed that the sex part of the curriculum should not be emphasized. The total system of "Human Growth and Development" takes in 16 subjects, and sex is only one of them. (The other 15 deal with general health, ecology and safety precautions.) He flashed a list of the 16 subjects on a screen by means of an overhead projector, but the rest of the hour-and-a-quarter presentation dealt with sex education exclusively.

The actual sex part of the curriculum starts in the sixth grade, when most children have not yet started to come into puberty. They are told what changes they can expect in their bodies and some of their anxieties are prevented by explanations that these changes occur earlier in some than they do in others. All internal as well as external sex organs are discussed, and the proper terms for them are taught. A film strip "Where babies come from" is planned for this grade as well.

In the seventh and eighth grade, there is emphasis put on the emotional changes which go hand in hand with puberty. Films about the "Female cycle" and "Puberty in boys" are to be shown as well as one on pregnancy and birth. Venereal disease may be discussed, but only if questions about this comes up.

Other subjects, like birth control and masturbation are not intended to be brought up by the teacher either unless some pupil is brave enough to ask a question about them. To make it easier on the children teachers are being encouraged to put up question boxes, and if a teacher feels that a certain question should be asked, he or she can slip it into the box himself.

At the end of his presentation, which also included some of the movies and film strips which are to be shown to pupils, Mr. Zehr made three points about the idea of teaching sex education to children at such an early age.

As soon as a child is old enough to be able to ask a question about sex, he is old enough to deserve an answer. The answer does not have to be too involved, but it has to be factual and direct.

"Children are going to learn sex one way or another, just like we all did," he said. "But often the things they learn are not completely correct, the terms used are not the right ones, and the atmosphere in which they are taught is often completely wrong. By teaching sex education in school we are given an opportunity to give them the right information in the right way."

And his last statement was: "It is better in this subject that students should know about it one year before they need to know it, rather than one single day too late."

Carl Clayton Attends Meeting In Montreal

Carl Clayton, Sillsville area pork producer and Vice Chairman of the Ontario Pork Producers' Marketing Board, attended the three day meeting of the National Economic Conference in Montreal last month. He represented the Canadian pork farmers on the agricultural committee there.

The 200 members of the conference each represent a specific segment of the Canadian economy and they are grouped together in 16 more general committees, which each present a report to the conference. Mr. Clayton was one of those giving a paper.

The National Economic Conference is a prestigous group traditionally listened to carefully by governments. Guest speaker at the banquet during the event was Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

MARY HENRY

Remember that old saying:
"YOU ARE WHAT YOU EAT"? In a world where processed and convenience foods make up a large part of our diets, it is important to consider the nutritional quality of the foods our families enjoy. Our bodies can only operate at their best if we provide them with the right "fuels" (or nutrients) in the proper proportions. Since no one food provides each of the nutrients our bodies require, it is necessary to choose a variety of foods.
To help us choose wisely, foods have been arranged into four basic groups. Each of the foods within the group will provide similar nutrients. If we eat a variety of foods from each of the groups each day, we are assured of a well-balanced diet.

WEATHER AND ROAD BULLETINS AVAILABLE

Farm weather and road reports, available around the clock, seven days a week are now being provided for this part of Ontario.

The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, in co-operation with the Toronto and Montreal weather offices, and the Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications, prepare and record bulletins which may be heard by dialing a telephone number 416-924-8117. It is updated three times a day, at 7:15 a.m, 12:05 and 4:30 p.m.

Weather systems expected in a two day period are discussed, followed by detailed forecasts, and when possible the weather outlook for the 3rd, 4th and 5th days.

The reports are agriculturally oriented during the growing season while road information is the dominant information during the winter months.

Factsheets are an excellent source of information in your farm program. Just about every subject has a factsheet which basically consists of consolidated information on current topics of Agricultural interest. The factsheet is an important tool in the farm management program on the farm and can be more readily kept up to date as compared with a bulletin on the same subject. Inspect our binder of factsheets at the Agricultural Office. We have all of them on hand are are free upon request.

Best Wishes and may 1974 bring you continued success.

The President of the California Tomato Growers' Association told the delegates at the recent Ontario Vegetable Growers' Convention that California's tomato production is now 100% mechanized. Six hundred growers produce 200,000 acres and vertical integration in the industry has become almost extinct. The new type harvester could harvest 20 - 25 tons per hour compared to the former average of 10. Harvesters like these are worth $40,000. and a 200 acre contract would be required to warrant its purchase. In 1973, 99 percent of the California tomatoes were direct seeded with 70 percent of acreage planted to one variety. Our tomato production in the Quinte region, important as it is to the individual grower, seems so insignificant when compared to such a specialized industry as exists in the State of California.
